

FAULTLINE

SEISMIC SCIENCE AT THE EPICENTER

Fire in the Marina district

Wreckage from collapsed homes in San Francisco's Marina district burned throughout the night of the quake after gas lines burst. The landfill this neighborhood is built on --former marshland--experienced soil liquefaction during the quake.
Photo: KGO-TV News/ABC-7.

© Exploratorium